Believe Italy Seeking Plan To Get Out Of War

Washington Diplomatic Circles Think Italy Would Surrender To U. S.

U. S. WOULD NOT ACT SEPARATELY

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—There is a strong belief in highly authoritative diplomatic quarters in Washington today that Italy is now definitely striving to find some formula for withdrawing gracefully from the war.

It would cause no surprise in responsible diplomatic circles if Italy through indirect channels, already has intimated its willingness to surrender to the United States alone.

However, there is good reason to believe this government is standing pat on its policy of accepting nothing less than the unconditional surrender of Italy to the United Nations as a whole.

It has been made clear to Italy through a number of channels that this is the only basis on which the American government is prepared to authorize any of its representatives to discuss peace with parties representing Italian interests.

Surrender To U. S.?

It appears that Italians interested in seeing their country withdraw from the war as soon as possible believe Italy would receive much better treatment, and would, at least, be fed, if it was able to surrender to the United States alone.

The Italians apparently fear that if they surrender to the United Nations as a whole they are likely to be roughly handled by some of the allied powers insofar as their future destiny is concerned.

'Greatest Naval Move' Reported Imminent

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 29.—The invasion coast of France was given a thorough working over today by British planes as other Allied aircraft continued to hammer the Axis in the Mediterranean in the face of mounting tension throughout Europe over possibility of an imminent Allied landing at some point.

Simultaneously, the London News Chronicle's naval expert reported that the "greatest naval operations in history" are imminent. The undertaking, he said, will involve the landing and maintenance of an Allied army in Europe.

Axis In Frenzy

The Axis, according to Reuter's news agency, was giving particular attention to the Balkans and the Mediterranean, and it was said that Hitler had ordered guns from the French Maginot line established on the Adriatic coast of Greece.

Berlin and Rome were reported in a quandary and setting up heavy

Protest Move To Cut Service On Bus Lines

New Castle Alarmed At Possibility Of Reduction In City Service

SEND PROTESTS TO WASHINGTON

Alarmed by the possibility of a complete breakdown of the bus transportation system in New Castle if the 20 per cent reduction order of the Office of Defense Transportation goes through, a wave of protest swept over the city today.

Telegraphic protests have been sent to Washington, and Roger Jewett, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association, is asking all industry to wire its protest to Guy Richardson, director of the Division of Local Transport, room 5210 Interstate Commerce building, Washington, D. C.

New Castle's transportation is already taxed beyond its capacity, it is pointed out. Busses are loaded to the door practically all day long, insufficient time is taken out for inspection and repairs, and equipment is in danger of going to pieces. To cut 20 per cent of the mileage down now would mean even more chaos, workers would be handicapped getting to and from work, and the result would mean lost efficiency in the war effort, Mr. Jewett said.

Seventeen Busses

"We have a population approaching 52,000," said Mr. Jewett, "and there are but 17 busses in the system to handle the load. In normal times this might be sufficient but with gasoline rationing on pleasure cars the bus loads have been stepped up to where the facilities are endangered. There are but five taxicabs in the city to aid in the transportation problem."

Paul W. Keely, O. D. T. manager of the Pittsburgh office, was also given the protests of New Castle and promised to present the case to ODT officials in New York in a day or so.

Already wires of protest have been sent to Washington by the Greater New Castle Association, the New Castle Motor culb and by some individuals. It is hoped the number will increase for the problem is one that confronts every citizen.

The new order requires a cut of 20 per cent in mileage for the purpose of extending the present gasoline allotment which runs from

Third Largest Harbor In Italy Heavily Bombed

Harbor Of Leghorn, Italian Naval Academy Site, Badly Blasted

LONGEST FLIGHT FOR DOOLITTLE'S FORCE

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA, May 29.—The longest bombing flight yet made from North African bases, nearly 100 flying fortresses of Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's strategic air force have carried out a terrific attack on the great harbor of Leghorn, site of the Italian naval academy, an official communique disclosed today.

The big Boeing B-17s made the trip entirely unescorted. Then enemy planes arose to intercept the raid, but one of them was shot down and the operation carried out according to plan.

Hits were scored on three ships in the harbor, the third largest in Italy. An oil refinery, railway lines and a shipyard also were blasted. Smoke columns arising from the wreckage were visible for 100 miles.

Fires broke out all over the dock and industrial areas. Two heavy explosions at the Leghorn oil refinery were followed by four smaller detonations. Reconnaissance photographs showed six major conflagrations.

Devastation Extensive

Within a few minutes after the raid began, the smoke pall became so thick that further observation was impossible. But devastation in the railway and dock area was described by returning pilots as the most extensive they had ever seen. Many bombs were seen to fall into shipbuilding yards.

Some hours later, marauder bombers escorted by P-40 Warhawks attacked the big Milo airfield near Trapani on the island of Sicily. Bombs were dropped among aircraft

Early Allied Force Landing In Europe Is Being Predicted

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 29.—An early landing of an allied army in Europe was predicted today as the Axis-controlled continent quaked under the impact of furious aerial blows from the west and south and Hitler and Mussolini were reported straining to plug every point in danger of invasion.

The greatest naval operations in history are imminent, said the naval expert of the London News Chronicle.

These operations, the writer said, will involve the landing and maintenance of an allied army in Europe.

Navy Is Ready

Declaring that the British navy is ready to participate in the operation with other allied warships, the writer said that every detail of the gigantic operation already has been worked out.

The remarks were emphasized by the conclusion in Washington of conferences of joint chiefs of staff on future allied strategy.

The week-end holiday period should not develop any large number of traffic accidents in this area this year. In contrast to the usual heavy auto traffic over the highways, the ban on driving will probably result in very little traffic. Any driver who is going to be on the highways should exercise double caution, however, as some autoists are inclined to be careless when traffic is light.

Buses, trucks, fire engines, taxicabs and other commercial vehicles must not be used in Memorial Day or other parades, the Office of Defense Transportation at Washington announced today. Gasoline is provided for essential uses only, it is announced.

Any person not required by necessity to travel over the Memorial holiday should stay at home, is the warning issued today. Buses and trains will be overcrowded.

Mileage Slash In Deliveries Is Attempted

Pittsburgh District In Confusion In Seeking To Meet New Orders

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—The Pittsburgh district faced an increasingly difficult transportation and delivery problem today as operators of buses, taxis and trucks struggled manfully to curtail schedules as ordered by the ODT.

Bus lines reported a jam-up of passengers over the Memorial Day week-end and company officials were frankly puzzled on how to comply with the government's edict of a 20 per cent slash in mileage and still provide sufficient service.

The Yellow Cab Company announced it was conducting a survey of drivers' mileage in an effort to devise a plan for curtailed operation. The company previously planned to

New Retreat By Attu Japs

Americans Battle Enemy In Conflict Waged Above Cloud Line In Aleutians

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 29—Fighting above the cloud line, U. S. forces on Attu island in the Aleutians have captured important Fishhook ridge from the Japs and have forced the enemy to retreat to new positions, the Navy announced today.

The remaining strong point of Japanese forces on Attu is an area three to four square miles southwest and north of Chichagof harbor.

"The U. S. Army troops, in capturing the strong position on Fishhook ridge fought over rugged and snowy terrain and scaled 60-degree ridges in the face of strong enemy fire," the Navy said. "The Japanese positions were entrenched above the cloud line."

The Navy described the remaining strong point of Japanese resistance as "centered in the area formed between the north wall of Chichagof valley, Holtz bay pass and Chichagof harbor."

"There is little Japanese activity in the Khlebnikof area accept for one enemy position on the ridge east of the north end of Lake Cories," the Navy added. "Other parts of the island are devoid of enemy activity."

The new American gains were made despite the fact that air operations were hampered by bad weather.

Vital Fishhook ridge is about one and five-eighths miles southwest of Chichagof harbor and is one of the last remaining strong points on the path to Attu village in the harbor area.

THIRD LARGEST HARBOR IN ITALY HEAVILY BOMBED

parked on the ground and three out of 20 German and Italian fighters which challenged the raiders in the air were shot down.

As the result of these and previous raids, the Axis on the Mediterranean flank is groaning under an eight-day attack which is straining enemy nerves to exhaustion.

In these eight days allied air sweeps not only have devastated Sicily, Sardinia and Pantelleria but have partly immobilized the islands from a military standpoint. The allies have outfought the Luftwaffe and have conclusively demonstrated the superiority of Flying Fortresses, Warhawks, Lightnings, Mitchells, Marauders and Wellingtons over the Messerschmitts and Italian machines.

Sardinia, raided 54 times in eight days, was blasted with heavy and medium bombs and some "blockbusters." The explosives were dropped on 29 separate targets, particularly airfields and harbors.

In the same eight days against Sicily, there were twenty raids on as many targets, but the hardest hit and most consistently bombed single target were on Pantelleria.

January 30 to July 25, 1943. The purpose of the order is to get in about four weeks additional gasoline use through a reduction in miles of 20 per cent. The order says "it is recognized there may be occasions when the rigid requirements of the order will interfere with the production of war plants, activities of military installations and other activities which are essential to the prosecution of the war." This section offers the only hope to get the order stayed and for that reason it is urged by the GNCA that industry wire in its protests immediately.

Mayor Protests

Mayor Charles B. Mayne made the following statement of protest against the proposed cut in bus transportation:

"The new order cutting bus transportation 20 per cent in New Castle adds further confusion to an already chaotic situation. All of us realize the grim necessity of providing gasoline and oil for tanks, trucks and planes. All of us are ready and willing to sacrifice in any manner that is necessary for the successful prosecution of the war.

"We believe, however, that there should be some common denominator of sacrifice. We believe it is unfair to ask western Pennsylvanians for progressively increasing sacrifices when but a few miles away, Ohio residents are given nearly three times as much gas per week, pleasure riding is unrestricted and bus transportation hardly touched.

"New Castle's present bus system was set up before the war boom here. It was geared to handle a much smaller flow of traffic than it has been called upon to handle. The bus company has made every effort to handle traffic despite a shortage of equipment and the ever threatening possibility of break-down. To cut 20 per cent of its mileage down now will certainly be a strain that the company cannot possibly survive.

"As mayor of the city of New Castle, I want to add my protest to the proposal of the Office of Defense Transportation and to request that the order be rescinded so far as it applies here."

The situation here is serious. New Castle's bus service was geared to pre-war times. The upswing in industry and the curtailment of gasoline to pleasure cars has put an almost intolerable burden upon the bus system. A 20 per cent cut at this time would further cripple the transportation system.

acquaintanceship. Their names are not included in the cable."

The letter said the navy secretary has reviewed the report concerning his death and that he be officially held to have lost his life as a result of enemy action on May 6, the last date of defense of the Manila Bay area.

The rear admiral expressed his sincere sympathy in the deep sorrow of Mr. and Mrs. Smetana.

Boatswain's Mate Smetana was a member of the crew of the U. S. S. Canopus.

ministrator. The move would place food prices and rationing under Food Administrator Chester C. Davis and petroleum oil and gasoline matters in the hands of Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes.

2. A controversy over the use of subsidies to lower food prices and roll back the cost of living. Legislation already has been introduced in the senate to forbid such payments to food processors or manufacturers.

3. Continuing congressional pressure for the establishment of an independent agency on civilian problems, despite delegation to Byrnes of responsibility for "the maintenance and stabilization of the civilian economy."

The president's action in naming Byrnes as head of the Office of War Mobilization found general approval in congress, particularly among Senate and House members who long have plugged for an economic high-command. It left the foregoing problems to be settled, however.

to forgive and forget the part played by Italian troops on the Russian front.

Nor is it thought that Rome expects Great Britain to forget Premier Benito Mussolini's request to Adolf Hitler for the "privilege" of letting Italian aviators participate in the air raids on the British Isles during that country's hour of peril in 1940.

Can't See Leniency

The Italians undoubtedly can foresee France, Greece and Yugoslavia lining up with Russia and Great Britain at a United Nations council table to oppose any undue leniency to Italy in the discussion of final peace terms.

Italy also is believed to be fearful that Great Britain, especially will insist on the dissolution of most of the Italian African empire.

For these reasons, it is considered understandable why Italy should want to throw itself on the mercy of the United States alone. Rome might well think that the large body of Italian-Americans in this country could exert some influence in urging a policy of leniency toward a nation for which America had a traditional feeling of friendship until the outbreak of World War II.

add 16 new drivers to its rolls, but this addition has been ruled out in the light of the latest restrictions.

In Dilemma

Pittsburgh bakers were reported in a dilemma over finding a means of cutting the normal five-per-week home deliveries to just three without disrupting their own baking schedules too greatly. Both union officials and baking company representatives termed the ODT order "impractical."

Dealers and officials of the Milk Drivers' Union were scheduled to meet this week-end in an effort to negotiate a plan complying with the ODT directive cutting daily deliveries from six to four per week.

H. S. Crawford, regional manager of Greyhound Lines, said buses were operating in "full compliance" with the federal order cutting the mileage. He said Greyhound lines will cut 500,000 miles a month off its schedules by the action.

Strong forces of aircraft crossed the Straits of Dover before noon today and headed in the direction of Boulogne after a night-long rocking of the French channel coast by explosions and gunfire.

The occupied western coast of France was under attack during the night while planes of the fleet air arm and the fighter command peppered German shipping in the channel.

An engagement between light British coastal forces off Dunkirk was reported by the Nazi radio.

Italians Fear Invasion

Berlin asserted that the British craft were "motor transport boats" and claimed that one was sunk and another set on fire.

Dispatches from Berne, Switzerland, emphasized the mounting fears of the Italians that their Mediterranean islands soon may be brought under siege or that the mainland itself may be invaded.

An Italian military commentator speaking over the Rome radio, according to a dispatch to the Evening Standard, said after reviewing the latest Italian and German communiques:

"An invasion, at least against Italian islands, may be a matter of days at most."

The nerves of residents along the French Riviera were reported extremely jumpy. Numbers of the populace of Monte Carlo were said to have gone into the hills for an entire day following spread of rumors that an Allied landing was imminent.

In Strategic Positions

The naval writer pointed out that battleships mounting 15-inch guns, attended by aircraft carriers, cruisers, destoyers and minesweepers, have taken up positions at strategic points from where they now are constantly watching enemy fleets in the Mediterranean off the Norwegian coast and in the Baltic sea.

Never before, it was said, has the royal navy been in a stronger position to carry out difficult assignments. Present Reports

Today's sessions were concerned mostly with the presentation of reports on theological seminaries, the council of Christian education, bills and overtures, revision of seminary curriculum, world relief appeals, and church relations. Outstanding feature of the afternoon was an address by Dr. John McNaugher, former president of Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary, in observance of the 300th anniversary of the Westminster assembly.

A communion service will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. At 7:30 tomorrow evening, the chairman of the standing committees will preside at a meeting on foreign missions. Speeches will be made by Rev. Willis A. McGill, Rev. James D. Brown, Rev. J. Lowrie Anderson, and Dr. Mills J. Taylor.

The final roll call before the dismissal of the assembly will be at 4:30 Monday afternoon.

This Memorial Day Has Greater Meaning

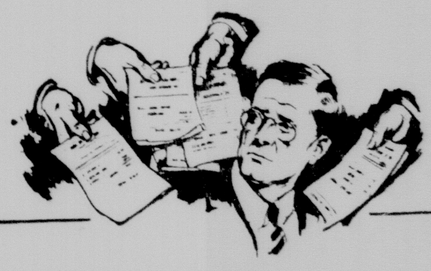

Memorial Day this year means more than it has during the past generation. It finds America again defending the principles so many have died to save.

There will be new graves of our soldier dead that cannot be decorated. They are in far corners of the earth—but none-the-less important because of that.

NEW TIMES FOR OLD

HOW time and change march inexorably on is one of the reflections given lively stimulus by the arrival of another Memorial Day. Ranks of the veterans of other days are thinned. Their age and struggles have been superseded by another age and other struggles. Only by a blare of bands and a strewing of flowers can memories of the regiments of honored dead be revived again.

Only for a moment may the resurrection be accomplished and then in a distant incongruous incompleteness. For has not change stolen upon the nation and the world in more ways than the extinctions of generations of men impose?

Thought runs in new channels. Ideals are subtly altered. The day and the era are both new. In the realms of statecraft and politics especially may this be realized, nowhere better. Now and again orators and writers implore a kindly fate. Yet what really is implored on analysis becomes no more than a cry for the incarnation in new molds to be seen and hailed of the integrity, courage and vision, the basic qualities which distinguished the historic figures.

Gettysburg is almost forgotten now on Memorial Day. Belleau Wood and the Argonne sometimes seem like pages out of remote history. Pearl Harbor and Bataan have been left behind in the inexorable march of time. Attu and Tunis have been newly inscribed on the scroll of glory, and another twelve months will see new names take their place alongside these in the lengthening saga of American history.

LABOR FROM MEXICO

Pacific Coast states, notably California, are letting no grass grow under their feet in meeting the farm labor shortage by requisitioning workers from Mexico.

One day recently 1,250 Mexicans arrived in Los Angeles and were promptly distributed as follows: Southern California, 500; Washington, 400; Arizona, 250, and Tulare county, California, 100.

These were not the first workers from Mexico to arrive under the current program. These arrivals raised the total number of workers brought over the line with the co-operation of the Mexican government to 12,000. Washington state received its first contingent from the latest group to arrive. The need of the workers up and down the West Coast will grow as summer advances. In a few days 2,000 are to be allotted to Orange county, California, to aid in harvesting the citrus crop.

Plans are being completed to swell the total of Mexican workers in the coast area to 50,000 when the crop peak is reached in September.

OUR BOMBS THE JAPS' CHIEF DREAD

Added confirmation of the pathological panic that swept the Japanese in the wake of the American bombing of Tokio is given by the stories told by Catholic priests who had conducted missions in Chinese territory that had given haven to some of Doolittle's fliers.

We had known before of the wholesale Lidices the Japs had made of Chinese towns whose inhabitants were suspected of giving aid to the airmen injured in crash landings. The missionaries supply some new and grisly details of mass slaughter and destruction, of savage and bestial conduct that stopped short only of cannibalism.

The Japs reached the peak of their barbarity, of course, in their execution of a number of the fliers who had been made prisoners of war. That action and their "reprisals" against the Chinese reflect the fear that curdled their blood when the bombs fell on their cities. That the curdling is still going on is evidenced by the broadcast announcement the other day warning the Americans that their next bomber attack will be met by "squadrons of one-seater planes that will crash into the bombers." Suicide fighters have been made a routine part of the islands' air defense.

Evidently the Japanese are terribly afraid of air raids. Their panicky dread was caused by one small attack. Their vulnerability to bombing is made plainer than ever by their fright. If one bombing did so much, what might others accomplish? We have everything to gain by finding out.

LET'S HAVE AN AUDIBLE ALL-CLEAR

Discussing the present air raid test system in the eastern zone at the present time the Philadelphia Inquirer appeals for an audible all-clear signal. The paper says:

To say that the present system of ending air raid alerts in the Philadelphia area with an inaudible all-clear is unsatisfactory is to understate the case.

The all-clear is not only inaudible; it is virtually non-existent. Save for those who happen to be listening to a particular radio station that broadcasts the end of an alert, persons waiting for a blackout to lift are kept literally in the dark about the whole thing.

The usual practice, unless one has psychic powers, is to turn on the lights as soon as an obliging neighbor does. If the wait is too long, some householders light up anyway. If no warden yells, it may be assumed that the blackout is legally over. Wardens also have their troubles. Sometimes they have to be reminded by ordinary citizens that the blackout is ended, which is likely to send them to bed with a depressed feeling.

The Philadelphia Council of Defense has asked permission from the Army to sound an audible all-clear, and the Army ought to grant the request without delay. New York and New Jersey, which come under the jurisdiction of a service command other than ours, already operate under the desired system.

Any arrangement of air raid signals must be comprehensible if they are to be efficient. An all-clear that no one can hear is not comprehensible and it is not efficient. It is nonsensical.

It is said that when a big league pitcher blows up in the ninth inning this year he is apt to blame it on the fact that he broke his bifocals.

It may soon be necessary for Mr. Brown to ration liquor. But be it remembered that drinking rationed liquor will not make you ans more rational.

A poll taken at New York University indicated that Roosevelt is favored for a fourth term. We wondered if they polled any of those students who thought in the history quiz that Harding was president during the Civil War?

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SLEEP HABITS SHOULD BE CONSISTENT

Many tots do not get nearly enough sleep in summer because they waken too early. Even some older children under ten or twelve get up too early. The lack of sufficient sleep grows more serious when, because of great heat, the child is put to bed late.

My special bulletin on "Sleep" to be had without cost by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a three-cent stamp on a self addressed envelope, considers this and other sleep proolems in detail. My chart on desirable hours of sleep at various age levels may also be had in this way. Here are a few practical suggestions:

Find out from this chart how late your child must sleep in the morning in order to get as much sleep each night (including day nap) as he should.

Tell him just once, clearly, tonight that he must not get up tomorrow morning until you call for him or the clock rings. The latter is better, being more definite and dependable.

Be on hand when he is likely to awaken and want to get up. Let everything else go tomorrow morning and on subsequent mornings until this matter is settled permanently. It may take a week or two.

Punish Child Immediately

The moment he rises to his hands, knees or feet, spank him saying No just once and pushing him down if necessary. If he rises again right away spank him again. Proceed in this fashion till he stays down while you are right with him.

Then go outside his room with his door ajar so you can see him and he can't see you. Immediately smack him again should he rise. Continue with this treatment until he learns to obey. Be sure to do this without exception tomorrow morning and the next till he learns to stay down until the bell rings. Say nothing about sleep. With the world so unattractive he will finally go back to sleep, provided there is no doubt in his mind that you can be relied on to be consistent. Don't begin this training until you are able to follow the instructions to the letter.

Hold your child under six or seven to a regular afternoon nap. Children over 6 or 7 who are very active or nervous should also be required to lie down and be quiet for an hour or two daily during the summer.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My child two years old does not talk very much. He can say mamma, daddy and about a dozen words altogether.

A. He probably will talk enough in due time. Perhaps he has had so effective sign language which his parents obey, that he has not had much need for formal language. He should spend more time with children his age or older and you should read a great deal to him. It might be wise to have his hearing tested by an expert.

Q. We should like to have our youngster now beginning speech learn to call us Daddy and Mother instead of by our first names. What is a good way?

A. Merely call each other Dadry and Mother in the child's presence and refer to each other in this fashion.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERMAN
International News Service Staff Writer

Jimmie Byrnes is a self-made man and did a good job of it.

Two years on the supreme court bench and he moves into the most important job in the country.

Some of those other guys have been stuck there for years.

Usually the supreme court is a blind alley job but Jimmie never stopped reading the "help wanted" ads.

And now he is in the driver's seat.

All he has to do is separate the dark horses from the white horses, please the White House, please the army and the navy. Please the bureaucrats and please the people.

How can he lose?

Fortunately he is a Spartan from Spartansburg, S. C.

A Spartan is a man who is so tough he cleans his teeth with an electric razor.

Thought for the day: Good Luck Jimmie—Don't take any wooden idols.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt: "The conference of the combined staffs in Washington has ended in complete agreement on future operations in all theaters of the war."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Joseph C. Grew, former ambassador to Japan: "We have barely scratched and only slightly hurt the potential power held by the Japanese.

WASHINGTON—Henry Morgenthau Jr., secretary of the treasury: "I still want sixteen billion dollars in taxes very, very badly."

To cure flu, don't bathe or change clothes. After two weeks the germs can't stand you any more.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 8:20. Sun rises tomorrow 5:35.

Being able to get into a crowded bus is better than not being able to get into a bus at all.

Giving plenty of notice that shortages will come makes the shortages come sooner.

Often it is easy to tell that a public owned automobile is being run for pleasure.

There will be enough soldiers and members of their families after the war is over to see to it that things are run different than they are now—and for the better.

DEFINITELY DERISIVE DEFINITIONS

Absenteeism—Too often, an off day is followed by a day off.

Endless Chain—Using inheritance tax to frisk orphans . . . using tax money to support orphanages.

Home—A place where our neighbors make noise, our friends mess up, and our landlord makes expensive.

Fundamentalist—One who is convinced his brand of religion is the best.

Swellhead—An indication that a person has got as far as he is going.

It will be a great thing if some wise boy will invent some plan to control pests—and that includes some in human form.

We hope women will never wear the same kind of bathing suits that some men wear.

It's all right to plan things we will do after the war is over, but getting the war over is the most important thing we can do now.

CURIOUS CYNIC CANTS

The chief objection to a 'fast' young man is that he is not going in the right direction.

Opportunities always look bigger when they are gone than when they are within reach.

You can't always tell whether she appears unusual because she has an interesting past or a vivid imagination.

No, it doesn't improve a girl's morals to remove her tonsils or to have her appendix removed.

No house is large enough to accommodate two spells of grouchiness at the same time.

Very often the shrugging of the shoulders mean more than words.

Almost 200 years ago, Ben Franklin said: "After crosses and losses men grow humbler and wiser.

Remember when what to do with their leisure worried many men? Well, it's worse than ever, now that there are no steam shovels to watch at work.

You no longer hear a man bragging about being a good cook. He's afraid you'll think he does it all while the old lady runs a machine.

On a crowded bus the weaker sex never seems weak.

It's a good idea to know how to swim if you expect to go any place where you might get drowned.

Soldiers in the army are buying all the War Bonds they can. They know the big help they are to help win the war.

A leading commander of the American Legion suggests that "when this war is over, there will be more freak, isms, more utopian crackpots, social politicians, and long-haired reformers, prophets, and demagogues who will trot out schemes for bringing on the millenium." Perhaps however there will be a return to sanity and horse sense after the initial exuberance. Too many chackpots can disgust the voters.

A great many people do not pay any attention to the collection of cans. They just throw them into the garbage cans as they always have. Cans are needed to help win the war.

New Suburban Gardener: "I don't seem able to tell my garden plants from weeds. How do you distinguish between them?"

Old Suburban Gardener: "The only sure way is to pull 'em out. If they come up again, they're weeds."

Potatoes are fattening. Keep your girlish figure.

There are a lot of things going on in this country that will make it hard to win the war. A little common sense in many cases, would end them for the good of us all.

Things have changed, all right. Not so long ago a shoulder strap was considered something that kept an attraction from becoming a sensation. Now the things, when mentioned, are considered part of the military uniform.

Good Taste

OUR MANNERS

"We should always so conduct ourselves, both at home and in public that our manners are irreproachable. And our manners should be based upon respect not only for ourselves but for others. We, therefore, should say nothing and do nothing that might offend others. We should never consciously hurt anyone's feelings, criticise anyone's ancestry, home, background, clothes—no matter how tempted we may be to do so.

People who gain popularity, who have a superfulity of friends and invitations, are invariably mindful of the feelings of others and they say complimentary things instead of giving way to thoughtless criticism. Self-control is one of the most essential "musts" on our list of social assets. To display uncontrolled emotion in public is in the worst possible taste. Well-bred people never show, before strangers, sorrow, anger or even affection—no matter how trying the conditions.

If you don't believe men, just look around, whenever there is such a display in a public place, and see for yourself the kind of people who violate this part of the social code. It just isn't done!

Question: I am planning a luncheon in my home. Please give me some hints, including the time it should take place—J. J.

Answer: The usual time for a luncheon is between 1 and 1:30. And guests should arrive on the hour appointed or a few minutes before; never a few minutes after.

The hostess, who sits or stands near the drawing or living room door, goes forward to meet incoming guests and makes any necessary introductions.

When luncheon is announced, the hostess leads the way to the dining room with the guest-of-honor. But if there is a host, he leads the way with the woman guest-of-honor and the hostess with the man guest-of-honor comes last. Men, with the exception of the host and the guest-of-honor, do not take the women in as they do at formal dinners.

A FATHER'S ADVICE

As the day of her wedding approached, father gave his daughter the following advice:

"Martha, dear, one of the greatest causes for discontent and divorce has its beginning in belittling the other person in public. It usually starts with a bit of good-natured teasing and soon grows into a habit . . . spreading like a disease, it soon becomes contagious.

"Such remarks as 'I've got a picture of Ralph doing that', or 'I wish I could get Ralph to do that' —a left-handed' attempt to make your husband conscious of his faults by sarcasm. Only, it never works out like it's intended.

"You will soon be married. Make the most of every opportunity to boost your husband . . . to talk of his virtues instead of his faults and slowly but surely, you will compel others to respect him.

"You are his partner for life and it is your duty to yourself as well as to him that you make your friends and his understand that your marriage is a success. Your social position and your financial advancement depends on each of you working as a team.

"Start out in life by speaking well of your husband always. And Ralph, if he is the man I think he is, will grow more tender and more loyal. Yes, and more affectionate because of your boosting and even boasting. Do not be afraid it will make him vain. It might at first, but he'll outgrow that.

"Just as your friends and business acquaintances will accept Ralph at the value you place on him in public, so too, will your friends come to regard you in proportion to the value and respect Ralph bestows on you.

"Boost each other and you will prosper and enjoy the happiness you both want out of life. One cannot be happy unless the other is happy. Disparage and belittle and you will both drift apart just as surely as night follows day."

And we hear there are people who do not have enough money to use all their points. Do not kick if you do not have enough points.

The right use of cosmetics will improve most anything except a vaccination mark.

Anent the food conference: The more secret pacts, the more tax.

Guide: "This castle has stood for 600 years. Not a stone has been touched, nothing altered, nothing replaced."

Visitor: "Um! They must have the same landlord as we have."

The Joneses invited me over to dinner last night, he said, and it was the first real meal I've had in months. Complete with meat. Coffee and everything. And I complimented Mrs. Jones on the dinner and casually asked her, what kind of meat was that? It didn't seem quite like beef.

And she said, you shouldn't look a gift horse in the mouth.

A sure sign that you are growing old is the increased number of pains you feel, especially in the neck.

If postwar prosperity really comes around the corner, and building begins, what will happen to the downtown parking lots?

When is a person financially independent?

Some days, when we feel philosophical, and are about to tell others what they should do, a still small voice comes and whispers to us: "Say, Mister, why don't you try that yourself?"

So far they haven't found anything blacker than a black market.

The only thing worse than a striker is the bullheaded tyrant employer who goads men into striking.

Falangism May Disturb Hemisphere Peace
Spanish Influence Felt In Latin America
New Book Warns Of Dangers Farther South

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 29. UNCLE SAM is due now to have trouble with Falangists.

We have Nazis and we have to lick them. We have Fascists, who have to be licked also, though not necessarily as unmercifully as the Nazi aggregation. We have been pestered by Communists likewise, but today they are brothers in arms with us, even if we still consider them as a trifle different than us. They have ceased, anyway, to try to force us into being imitators of their peculiarities.

The Falangists, though, are a less known outfit.

Yet they may presently begin bothering us worse than all the rest of the ism-atics, because there is a prospect that we will have them closer at hand.

Sax Bradford is just out with a book on the subject—a volume called "The Battle for Buenos Aires". It is a city which chronically is the scene of more anti-Yankee activity than any other corresponding area in Latin America. This was true during World War I, when I covered it for the United States Committee on Public Information—the "Compub," as it was known.

Sax, a former Pacific coast newspaperman, in the Navy at present, held a similar assignment for our intelligence service a bit earlier in the current conflict.

Nazism and Fascism were unknown terms in my era at the mouth of the Rio de la Plata. Of course, German agents were active, however, and pretty effective. Russia was recognized as an anarchistic country, but Communism had not evolved itself. Nazism and Fascism had not been born. Falangism was an infant yet but Sax's story is that it is growing up at an extraordinary rate.

There is no use in repeating what Communism, Nazism and Fascism signify. Everybody knows their meanings.

Falangism may not be so well understood.

General (nos Generalissimo) Francisco Franco, a rather inconsequential Spanish officer, helped create it at a time of extreme economic stress. His country is Communistic instead of Nazi or Fascist but Fuehrer Hitler and Duce Mussolini gave him a boost and nobody else helped his opposition. Prob-

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE WORLD'S CAPITAL

Aside from destroying the life blood of the fighting men, the capital of the nations at war is being destroyed. The making of tanks, airplanes, ships and guns does not constitute any creation of capital. These munitions of war must be made in order to save as many lives of the citizens as possible and to save as much capital amassed by the citizens as possible.

There has been a great deal of talk about Internationalism. Unfortunately, the people of this country have, politically, worked diligently to avoid what many legislators and political leaders have declared to be international entanglements, and as a result, there are not very many people in these United States that know anything about international affairs and many who care less.

There have always been a great many ambitious manufacturers and men of commerce in this nation who have invested much of their capital in their efforts to broaden the field of all commercial endeavors. They have invested their capital in England, in Germany, in France, in Italy and in the middle European countries. The primary purpose was to increase the income of these men of commerce but, incidentally, their efforts have given employment to a great many citizens of this nation.

Now these men and the corporations for which they have worked are faced with tremendous losses

MEMORIAL DAY THOUGHT

We are the ones they had in mind
Who dared in freedom's cause to die.
The children following behind
For whom they held the flag on high.
We are the Age in which they thought
When freedom's battles first were fought.

Stand at their grassy mounds today
And think of them this glorious morn
Who bravely put their lives away
For generations then unborn.
This is their glory and their pride:
We were the unborn when they died.

For us whom they had never seen.
For us whom they would never see,
They gave up all that might have been
To keep us out of slavery.
Now all we are and all we know
Of freedom, unto them we owe.

For us they died! How make it plain
Beyond the power of words to say?
They did not give their lives in vain!
We too, serve freedom's cause today!
We fight that ages yet to be
Shall know the joy of liberty.

Can It Be Done Again?

WASHINGTON, May 29. PASSAGE BY the House of the poll tax repeal bills, coupled with the speech in New York by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in which she urged repeal of all poll taxes, recalls that it was in 1936 the strategists of the Roosevelt Administration brought off what many regarded—and with reason—one of the cleverest coups in all political history.

THIS CONSISTED in taking away from the Republicans in the Northern States their great basic asset of the solid Negro vote while using loyalty to the Democratic label to keep the South, where political prejudice against the Negro is strongest, within the party lines. This feat was repeated in 1940 and had no little to do with Mr. Roosevelt's election for a third term. There is a division of opinin as to whether it can be done again.

AFTER THE 1936 election, in which Mr. Roosevelt polled ninety-six per cent of the Negro vote in the so-called pivotal States, Mr. James A. Farley, then the President's chief political manager—and a very practical man, in deed—held that the chief factors in turnnig the trick that year were: First, the WPA; second, Federal jobs; third, Mrs. Roosevelt. All three again operated effectively in 1940. Now, the WPA no longer exists, but the influence of the other two, plus that of the White-House-favored C I O labor leaders, is being exerted in behalf of the poll-tax repeal proposals which the Administration periodically supports but which, until now, have been blocked by Democratic Senators from the South through filibustering tactics.

ACCORDING to press reports, Mrs. Roosevelt on Sunday night, inaugurating New York's second annual city-wide Harlem Week observance made a speech advocating repeal of all poll taxes to a group of 200 persons in a private home. On Monday, the House by a large vote took the poll-tax bills away from the committee and passed them two days later. Mrs. Roosevelt's name was brought into the somewhat acrimonious debate and it is apparent a more determined fight than before will be made to put them through the Senate.

SHOULD THIS be successful, some political observers feel that, in the event of another Roosevelt nomination, the Democratic solidity of the South might crack again as it did in 1928 when four States broke away. The thing above all others, it is argued, that has kept the South Democratic has been the conviction that a Democratic national administration is always more sympathetic with the South's political

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

It's a new disease.

"Speedometeritis" it's called and it's becoming more prevalent every day. As a matter of fact it's getting to be an epidemic.

The most easily affected persons are holders of "B" and "C" gasoline ration books.

The only cure discovered for it so far is a strict gasoline diet. Sometimes even that doesn't help, and then a more drastic treatment is tried—60 or 90 days in a very small room with bars at the window.

The discoverers of the disease are OPA inspectors, who found that users of bootleg gasoline set their speedometers back or disconnect them when applying for supplemental rations to conceal excess mileage obtained by buying gas without coupons or with bootleg coupons.

The thing that astonishes me is how many of our citizens the government has found to be crooked.

Most of these citizens are known as honest by their fellowmen. They pay their bills, they live decent lives, they hold good jobs.

Along comes the government—and particularly the OPA—and all of a sudden millions of us should go to jail.

What is the answer?

Could it be that we don't like snoopers and want to get the best of them?

Could it be that some of these new laws are so unsound that we simply cannot live up to them?

Could it be that those in the East feel that if the West is permitted to have gasoline the East should have as much?

Since when has America ever approved of one law for one section of the country, a different one for another section?

There isn't a one among us who hasn't had unpleasant experiences with some little piker official, sitting on a temporary throne that will collapse under him as soon as the war is over and turn him back into a nonentity.

You call our disease "Speedometeritis," you OPA fellows.

We call yours "Snoopistupiditis."

MOTHER

Sometimes Mother doesn't feel very good. She is all tired out. She has a poor appetite. She doesn't sleep very well.

The radio says she needs vitamin pills. Sometimes she needs a little recreation and rest.

If Mother has six children and Dad to look after, she has plenty to do. House cleaning time is worse.

Noses have to be looked after. Clothes must be washed and ironed and mended.

Bumps must be kissed. Meals must be prepared. Beds must be made.

Half an hour of relaxation a couple of times a day would help some.

Dad can help some too. His work is hard enough but Mother's is harder.

She is the king pin of the family. It is all right for Dad to go fishing but Mother should get first choice.

of their capital invested in European enterprises. It is estimated that more than five billion dollars of American capital has been confiscated and destroyed by the Axis Powers and among the things to be determined in the event we win this war is the recovery, if possible, of some part of this loss from the Axis Powers. There are more than two million citizens of this country interested in the problem of salvage for there are more than that number who have invested in corporations whose foreign capital has either been confiscated or destroyed.

The National Foreign Trade Council is determined to take measures as soon as possible to avoid the difficulties that arose following the last war in establishing proof of claims and to prevent, if possible, a repetition of inordinate delay in the settling of claims. The problem is vastly more extensive and complicated than after the last war, due to the number of countries in enemy hands and the enormity of the dislocation and devastation wrought by the Axis Powers.

Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Wallace and others of the New Dealers who seem very anxious to furnish every human with at least a quart of milk a day, and especially Mr. Wallace who incessantly, day in and day out, promulgates his Communistic ideas of a post-war world, will have to take notice that this is a very materialistic world and while strong men of the nation would like to see every man, woman and child adequately provided with the necessities of life, they will not be persuaded to abandon the necessity of the creation of capital to take the place of that which has been destroyed. The world, as a whole, notwithstanding Russia, India and China, will without question remain a capitalistic world.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

ably the others, at that stage of the game, were too busy elsewhere to notice what they consider that small-caliber little scrap.

Franco, once in, proclaimed himself a "caudillo," and christened his followers "Falangists"—adherents of a phalanx.

The Falangists do not signify much in Europe or Africa.

They have some military strength but no unity.

Where there is a risk is that their missionaries will raise heck is in the Spanish new world.

Argentina is the place for them to dig in.

Of course, their program won't work in the long run, but it may cause trouble for a long time.

Communism obviously is petering out. It is taken for granted that Nazism is on the ultimate slide. Fascism's slide is much more than ultimate—it is imminent.

But suppose we have a Falangist element planted in our own western hemispherical dooryard down into indefinite futurity?

It won't make any difference that it will be tom-foolish. If it strings along for a generation, it will be a decided bother.

The little southern countries won't be a danger, but their policies may be an infernal nuisance. It won't be to THEIR advantage, but it won't be to OURS, either.

Sax disregards Communism. He is correct. It does not figure in our neighborhood. He disregards German and Italian local influence. The southern Americas disregard them. They disregard Russia: it is too remote.

But we may have a lot of Falangism on our doorsteps presently.

It isn't entirely Sax Bradford's surmise, either.

Sax quotes the reports of the Argentine chamber of deputies, headed by Dr. Paul Toborda, and from the Inter-American defense committee's record, meeting in Montevideo.

The issue will be more post-war than the present-war in its complications.

To the present generation it is immaterial.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

treatment of the Negro than the Republicans. When this is no longer true, then the basic reason for the South's political solidity disappears. In this matter of taking over the Negro vote and still holding the loyalty of the Southern States on the old grounds of sympathy, the South, it is said, can be played for a sucker twice but not the third time.

THE OTHER view is that there is no limit to the gullibilty of the South, and that its ingrained habit of Democratic voting, plus other reasons, will nullify any tendency to revolt in 1944, poll tax or no poll tax. But, even if this is not so, the risk is worth taking, it is contended, because the big debatable States in the North where the Negro holds the balance of power, with their larger electoral votes, will more than offset any possible defections in the South.

OF COURSE, all these are the arguments of the politicians and do not touch upon the principle involved. That is the constitutional right of the States to regulate their own elections and fix the qualifications of their own voters. If that right can be abridged by Congress in one direction it can be abridged in others and there is nothing to prevent complete Federal domination of the States. If that right is lost then the States do, in fact, become vassals of the national Administration and the great principle of local self-government, so inherent in the American Constitution, really dies. This is the possibility that makes the proposed repeal of concern to all the States and not only to those of the South.

Another explanation of "juvenile delinquency" is general acceptance of the idea that chastity is old-fashioned and queer.

"This is my first visit to London and I sure was surprised," he explained, still rubbing his eyes. "It's an even bigger city than I though. The subways are simply wonderful, aren't they? Especially those moving stairs that take you right down into the bowels of the earth. They fooled me at first; I just didn't know what to do. You see, I never got to New York before my outfit came across and we don't have stairs like that down where I live."

During his four months in Britain, Mike has found the English where he is stationed easy to get along with and very willing to help him out of difficulties. Only snag: the language difficulty. But the infantryman from Pennsylvania is picking up the county dialect and making lots of friends.

THANKS TO THE LEGISLATORS TRADE BARRIERS ARE OUT

Governor Edward Martin has just signed the bill which increases truck loads in Pennsylvania, put this state somewhere near the load limits of adjoining states and makes it possible to haul heavy war loads over the highways without delays for special permits, save in unusual cases.

The bill is a sensible one, one that was needed for some time, and the General Assembly of 1943 realized its necessity. By signing the bill Governor Martin has swept away many of the old trade barriers that penalized Pennsylvania truck operators.

By passing the bill, the members of the General Assembly displayed sound judgment and legislative courage. The Lawrence County Chapter, P. M. T. A. publicly expresses its' appreciation to State Senator J. K. McQuiddy, Assemblyman James C. Brice and Assemblyman W. Sharp Fullerton for their courtesy and cooperation in aiding in this necessary legislation.

BAN ON STRIKES IS DEMANDED

Commander Of American Legion Demands Government Back Troops On Firing Line

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29 — Roane Waring, national commander of the American Legion, called upon the government today to "get tough and stay tough" in backing up troops on the firing line.

Waring demanded a ban on strikes. He placed the blame for wartime strikes on a "vacillating government."

Speaking before the San Francisco Commonwealth club and later at a mass meeting in the war memorial building under auspices of the Legion, Waring was cheered again and again.

"The bulk of our trouble can be laid to our vacillating government for not stating a definite policy for labor, for management and for industry, and making them all hew to the line," said Waring who is making a nationwide tour of war production centers following his trip to the Tunisian front at the invitation of General George Marshall.

"Let our law making body enact legislation that will prevent strikes and set up proper machinery to handle these disputes, and then let our executive department administer it with determination and even handed justice," Waring said.

"In my opinion the great bulk of American labor, whether organized or unorganized, is just as patriotic and loyal as any other group of American citizens. They are doing a magnificent job."

Holiday Travel Creates Problems

Traffic Near All-Time Record Despite Pleas For Decreased Travel

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—Despite requests by the Office of Defense Transportation for cancellation of all unnecessary travel, Pittsburgh bus and train terminals were packed today, and officials said demands for tickets were approaching an all-time record.

Every bus-loading at every terminal in the city was a repetition of mob scenes that prevailed at ticket windows and information desks.

Forced to curtail their use of gasoline sharply by the latest ODT order, bus companies which normally sent from two to five coaches on certain scheduled runs were compelled to send only one bus along the same line.

The demand for railroad tickets to New York, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Chicago and Washington were particularly heavy. One official said "if we could operate under normal schedules we could enjoy the best business we ever had."

FRAME RESIGNS HIGHWAY POST

Frame, appointed to the $12,000 a year post February 23, 1939 by former secretary I. Lamont Hughes, was a veteran highway employe. He did not disclose the reasons for resigning.

Poppy Day Is Being Observed

Representative of Neshannock Post No. 315, and Harry L. McBride Post No. 522, V.F.W., are conducting their annual Buddy Poppy Day sale here today.

From the number of people seen wearing poppies this morning, the veterans were enjoying a good response to their appeal. The money derived from the sale is used by the posts in welfare work.

We've got to elect abler men. If these can't even plan a tax measure, how will they deal with a 500-billion debt?

Little Journeys through
JOHNSON BRONZE

The Core Department

Throughout history man has borrowed many ideas for manufacturing from nature. Core making is a good example. Mother Nature started it when she created the apple. In the manufacture of bushings and bearings cores are sometimes used to form the inside diameter.

Making cores is somewhat similar to making a cake. Your recipe would include good clean lake sand . . . oil, about the consistency of linseed oil . . . and a cereal mixture somewhat similar to flour.

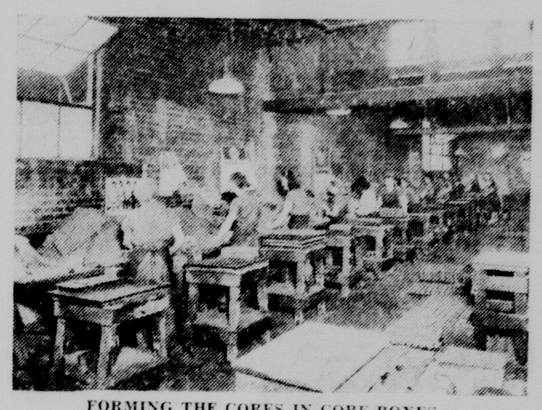

These ingredients are thoroughly mixed in a special machine designed for this particular purpose. This mixture is then transported to the work benches where girls quickly and accurately compress it into core boxes. The core box is usually cast from aluminum with the shape of the core hollowed out of the center.

After the cores are formed and placed on trays, they are sent to the ovens. Here they are baked . . . usually from one to two hours at an average temperature of 400°F. This is the procedure for ordinary cores. Special sizes and unusual shapes require more exacting treatment.

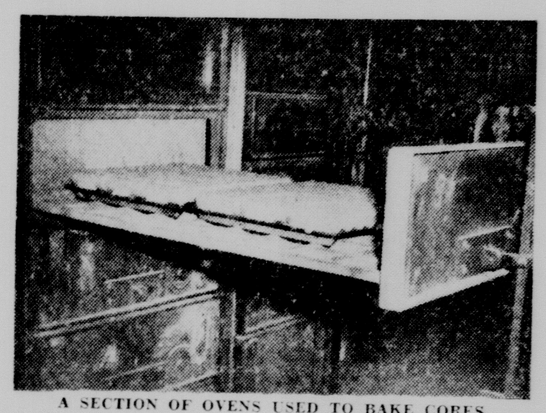

The Core Department is an important branch of the Johnson Bronze organization. Many of the employees have long and faithful records of service to the company . . . and possess skill that is of great value to our production. Many of the developments and improvements in core making adopted by the company have been contributed by these employees. We take this opportunity to recognize and salute this valued department in our industry.

Washington School Assembly Tribute

George Washington Junior High School Has Memorial Day Program Friday

S. Treasury department for its record in the recent school 'jeep' campaign, and American Legion awards to an eighth grade boy and girl were made.

Following presentation of a student service star by Miss Evelyn Spencer and its acceptance by Howard Lawson for Edward McAllister, who is in marine service silent tribute was paid to those of the faculty and student body who are in service. Two pupils of the eighth grade, one girl and one boy, were given awards of merit by the American Legion Perry Gaston post and its ladies auxiliary for outstanding accomplishment and ability. Students who received these were Patricia Ann Bilzi and Harvey Hamilton Bush.

Harman, Ex-'Cane Gridder, To Head Iowa Pre-Flight

Succeeds Bierman As Supervisor; Will Also Coach Seahawk Eleven

(International News Service)

IOWA CITY, Iowa, May 29—Lt. Col. Bernie Bierman who left the University of Minnesota to become physical director and head football coach at the navy's preflight school at Iowa University, will be detached soon for foreign duty, it was revealed today.

He will be replaced by Lt. Comdr. Harvey J. Harman, former University of Pittsburgh football star and coach at Rutgers, according to an announcement in "Spindrift", the base's weekly publication.

Will Coach Too

"Spendrift" quoted Capt. David C. Hanrahan, commanding officer, as saying Lt. Comdr. Harman would supervise the school's physical training program and act as coach of the Seahawk football team next fall. He is now director of athletics at Chapel Hill, N. C., preflight.

Lt. Comdr. Harman attended New Castle high and was a star in football. After being sheepskinned, Harman matriculated at Pitt University where he attained further greatness on the gridiron.

Coaches Penn

After completing his collegiate career, the former localite coached in the south and then was named mentor at the University of Pennsylvania. He held that post for a number of years and then accepted a similar position at Rutgers University.

Being named as head of the Iowa navy school is quite a distinction and a deserving tribute to one of most popular and most respected men in sports.

JOLIET STAKES TOP RACE TODAY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 29.—The $5,000 Joliet stakes and the $5,000 Francis S. Peabody memorial handicap feature Lincoln Fields' Memorial Day week-end racing program.

The Joliet stakes will be run this afternoon, and the handicap on Monday.

Matt J. Winn, executive director of Lincoln Fields, said all proceeds of Monday will be given to the Red Cross and to the Chicago service men's center. He looked for a total fund of around $50,000 to $60,000.

Mrs. Al Sabath's brilliant colt Civil Liberty was a 5 to 2 favorite today in the five furlong dash for two-year-olds. Eight other horses were entered, second choices being Alorter and Leavenworth at 4 to 1 and Valdina Cooky at 6 to 1.

PIAA Track Meet Underway Today

Over 400 Schoolboys In State Event; Board Of Control In Session

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., May 29.—More than 400 schoolboy athletes representing 98 Pennsylvania high schools were primed for the effort of their lives today as the 19th annual PIAA track and field championships got under way in Altoona's new $100,000 stadium.

The morning session was scheduled to be devoted to trials in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, followed by high and low hurdles and five field events.

Nine Districts Vie

A recapitulation revealed that nine districts, with a total of 56 schools, were entered in the Class A championships, while Class B competition will have seven districts and 42 schools in it.

The PIAA board of control, which held its first meeting yesterday continued its sessions today. Secretary Edmund C. Wicht said any board decisions of importance will be released later in the day.

A coaches' conference will be held tonight at the conclusion of the meet where it is expected the track mentors will hold post mortems on the outcome of the championships.

Ray Conger, one-time racing star at the University of Illinois, has been designated official starter for today's contests. Conger is now connected with Penn State.

Sports Ramblings

Jotted down while waiting for aces wired:—

With City Baseball leaguers set to inaugurate their 10th season, it isn't out of line to pay homage to President Mike Donovan for organizing the national pastime at a period when the game is needed by civilians. With no financial returns whatsoever staring him in the face, the genial North Hiller gave up a lot of time to form the circuit because "I believe fans need and want the game". Mr. and Mrs. Gus Phan can show their appreciation by supporting the circuit. . .

When the last event had been staged, the several hundred fans walked away from Taggart stadium saying a lot of nice things about Bob Post—an inevitable occurrence. The George Washington student smashed three records in two and one-half hours, setting new marks in the 100 and 220 yard scampers and in the broad jump. If the lean athlete doesn't let the accomplishments soar above his shoulders, he may enjoy the sweet and invigorating juices of success. . . .

While attending a Mansfield funeral, Art Mittler, the local sports enthusiast and former baseball sensation, met one of his closest friends, John Daley, after a lapse of many years. During the conversation, Daley, who got as far as the Pittsburgh Pirates in the baseball world, disclosed that he played with New Castle in 1911 and was a room mate of George Chip. Daley, now 52 and in charge of a department in a rubber plant, sent back greetings to his local friends, particularly Chip. . . .

Odd bits about this and that:—Months have passed, the Allies are moving toward victory and there are still a few fans who can't believe that the Chicago Bears were beaten. Elmer Layden, the pro czar, reveals that he has received a letter from one of his old quarterbacks now stationed in New Guinea. He asked if "there's any truth to that rumor floating around the South Pacific that the Redskins beat the Bears"! . . .

Financial tidbit: The 140 American League baseball players now in the armed forces are worth $1,000,000 in baseball, according to figures from the office of President Will Harridge. A mere pittance compared to what they're worth in olive drab. . . . Dick Barrett, the Cubs' pitching recruit, dislikes the numerals 3 and 2. He lost seven games (won 27) by 3-2 scores. Can you blame him?

Elders - Indies, Moose - Potters Inaugural Foes

First Half Chase Begins At 3 O'Clock; Rivals Are Eager-Eyed

DONOVAN ASSERTS BASEBALL NEEDED

That hackneyed but appealing call—"Play Ball!"—will reverberate amid the war-colored skies Sunday day afternoon as the City Baseball league opens its 10th annual season.

With only four teams at the starting gate, two clashes, slated to begin at 3 o'clock, will feature the first half opening ceremony.

Moose Vs. Potters

The opening date card brings together the always formidable Moose club and the Shenango Pottery, a new entry, on Lee avenue field, West Side.

Up on Marshall field in the Croton sector, the talented Elder A. C. picks up its gloves and bats to battle the Lawrence Indies from the southern end of town.

As the loop prepares to inaugurate another campaign, its second since the nasty back stab by the Japs, President Mike Donovan had this to say:

"In this war year, we believe that civilians want and deserve baseball. There isn't a finer way to relax and forget the big conflict, for a couple of hours, than by sitting somewhere watching the national pastime.

Because we felt that baseball is a necessity in the sense of keeping up civilian morale, we exerted ourselves in organizing this league. While the calibre of play may be a bit slower, due to the number of local boys serving their country, we can still say we have baseball. That's more than the Axis can say."

Managers Silent

Hampered by nasty weather, the league rivals are not in fine early season condition, the four managers report. With a break in weather

TWO SERVICEMEN IN MOOSE LINEUP

At least two servicemen will be on the field of action when the City Baseball league opens its 10th season Sunday.

Business Manager Carm DeLeone of the Moose today announced that First Baseman Mickey Kearns and Pitcher Eddie Stewart will appear in the lineup against the Pottery nine.

The localites are home on furlough, DeLeone stated. According to a league ruling, former City leaguers now serving in the armed forces are permitted to play.

TALLYHO SERVICE AT CAMDEN PARK

CAMDEN, N. J., May 29.—It'll be Tallyho for the races when Garden State park opens July 7.

Track President Eugene Mori announced today that horses and wagons and Tallyhos will be available, free of charge, to shuttle patrons from outlying bus stops to the track.

In addition, he said, there will be a specially protected parking spot for those going to the races on bicycles.

Northwestern U. Cards Two Night Football Clashes

Wildcats Play Indiana September 25 And Michigan October 2

(International News Service)

EVANSTON, Ill., May 29.—Northwestern University Wildcats were scheduled today to play two night football games in Dyche stadium, one against Indiana Sept. 25 and the other against Michigan, Oct. 2.

Lighting facilities to be installed for the game between the college all-stars and the Washington Redskins Aug. 25 will be used for Northwestern's two night games. The all-star game, which usually is held in Chicago's Soldier field, was moved to Dyche stadium this year.

In announcing the night games, K. L. Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern, said the night games were scheduled to give Northwestern fans, many of whom will be employed in war industries, a chance to see the Wildcats in action.

PHILS PURCHASE SCHOOLBOY FLASH

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 29—The Phils outbid the Athletics, Detroit, Red Sox, Cardinals and Brooklyn to get George L. Eyrich, 18-year-old fireball pitcher of Reading high school, who graduates tonight and joins the Quaker City team in Pittsburgh tomorrow.

However, the baseball teams weren't the only ones interested in the five foot eight inch imitation of Bob Feller. George is scheduled to take his final army physical examination at the Allentown induction center June 4.

Illinois Favored In Central Meet

(International News Service)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 29—Ten men strong, the University of Illinois' track squad was favored today to win the team title at the 18th central collegiate conference outdoor track and field meet.

Athletes representing 22 colleges and universities in the middle west are entered in the meet which is being held this afternoon and tonight. The entrants include five Western Conference teams and Notre Dame, winner of the CCC's indoor meet.

Illinois' squad was led by Bob Kelley, Big Ten quarter and half mile track title holder; Clarence Dunn, champion miler, and included such athletes as Herb Matter, Bill Beile, Warren Goodell, Tom Fullerton and Herb Bekermeier. They have a good chance, it was figured, to capture as many as six first places.

Closest competition was expected to come from Minnesota and Michigan State.

Charley Hlad, army meterology student at the University of Chicago, who was expected to win the two hurdle events, was withdrawn from the meet last night because of army regulations.

Williams Drops College Athletics

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., May 29.—The Williams college athletic council today announced the dropping of all intercollegiate sports for the duration.

Williams is the first of the "Little Three" which includes Amherst and Wesleyan to take this step.

Meanwhile the Williams College Record, undergraduate newspaper, was suspended after continuous publication for 25 years. Induction into the services of the editorial staff caused the suspension.

County Umpires To Meet Tonight

Walsh Proposes Fleet-Alsab Race

War Effort Would Be Beneficiary; Date Suggested August 9

By DAVIS J. WALSH

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 29.—This isn't an official announcement. But it ought to be. It isn't, so far, even a tacit admission by the proper authorities that the thing might happen, though in all conscience it should.

What it constitutes, in fact, is a polite proposal that Chicago's two great champions of thoroughbred racing, Alsab and Count Fleet—each in his own right the toast of the turf—be matched in a special race on a Chicago track this summer.

Anyhow, here's the working model:

Working Model

The time—Monday, August 9, a date admittedly arrived at by dead reckoning. The locale—Arlington and Washington park's combined 67-day meeting, with its $1,500,000 worth of mid-summer madness; a Comstock Lode of all purse monies.

The conditions—standard distance of 1¼ miles, with scale weights prevailing for these champion three-year-olds of 1942 and 1943 respectively. And the promotion tying in with the one beneficiary which nowadays has no rival, i.e., the war effort and its successful prosecution.

Sounds good, doesn't it? As a matter of fact, it is good. So much so that, if you wanted to get carefree and sort of haphazard by tossing in the third Chicago "name champion" Whirlaway, a horse track wouldn't be big enough for the crowd. You'd have to put the thing in Chicago's Lincoln Park, and maybe lease Soldier Field as an annex.

There it is, Mr. Benjamin Lindheimer, executive director of the two tracks—a chance to do your country, your community and your racing public a joint service.

Growing Demand

For, if it is to be said that the foregoing is only a proposal, not an announcement, it must further be said that in a sense it is neither of these. It is a growing demand, not by just a writer of words that hope and try to reflect the public's attitude, but a demand from the town where Owners Al Sabath and John D. Hertz made most of their money. And where Warren Wright, owner of Whirlaway, lived for many years.

Seven Hearts, first horse nominated for the 1943 Kentucky Derby, started ten times last year and won seven times.

Fritzie Says He'll Fight In Pittsburgh

Determined To Meet LaMotta Regardless Of Illinois Board Ruling

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 29—The "now it's on, now it's off" fight between Fritzie Zivic, former welterweight king, and Joltin' Jake La Motta, of New York, is on today—but definitely.

The latest information about the twice postponed fight comes direct from the lips of Zivic himself and Leon Rains, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

Zivic All Set

Both said Zivic, "Pretzel Nose" to his admirers here in Pittsburgh, would go through with the 10-round fight with LaMotta at Forbes Field, the home of the Pittsburgh Pirates, one June 10—no matter what the inninois boxing commission says.

Zivic was originally scheduled to meet the Bronx windmill last Monday, but the fight had to be called off two nights in a row because of inclement weather.

The Pittsburgh fighter has a date to meet Tommy Jones in Chicago on June 7, but Zivic and Rains are confident that it can be called off and Zivic be made available for the bout with LaMotta.

Allen Is Fined $200, Suspended

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 28. — Ford Frick, president of the National League today fined Johnny Allen of the Brooklyn Dodgers $200 and suspended him for 30 days for pushing umpire George Barr during last night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Frick also fined Rube Melton $50 and Les Webber $75. They also are member of the Dodgers.

Honus Wagner, who still wears a baseball suit while coaching the Pirates, will be 69 years old Feb. 24.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Boxers who are serving the U. S. and Great Britain in the European Theater of war who will box June 6 in London have been selected. The Stars and Stripes will hold the tournament. Among those who will represent the U. S. army is one boy who fought here as an amateur. He is Billy Garrett of Braddock. He is a welterweight.

Sergeant Bill Walsh, Shenango P. R. D. was in the city several days ago but unfortunately we did not get to meet him. Bill is the lad who announced the next to last show in The Arena and who matchmakes for the fistic shows.

Private Warren E. Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gibson, is stationed in 498 F. C. C., Barracks 304, S. P. A. A. O.

There'll be City league games tomorrow at Lee Avenue and Marshall Field. Recently the writer was named by the City leaguers as one of the loop's commissioners. We'll try to give them the same service we gave the County league for 22 years.

YANKEES CLAW DETROIT TIGERS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 29. — The Brooklyn Dodgers' loss of Johnny Allen via the dog-house may not present an insurmountable obstacle to the National league-leaders in their quest of the pennant, but the temperamental star will be missed—especially when he is needed.

Too many times before a pitching staff has been just as good as its relievers—or firemen, as they are known—the gents who can go in there and douse a conflagration of enemy bats in the pinch and stave off an impending defeat.

Allen Big Help

Allen had been a big help all season. The 30-day suspension handed down by league president Ford Frick yesterday will keep him idle until the latter part of June, and could mean a big difference in the Dodgers' chances.

The league-leaders won their ball game yesterday beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 2 behind Ed Head. That kept them out in front by 1½ games over the St. Louis Cardinals, who downed the Boston Braves, 2 to 1, in 10 innings when Lou Klein drove in pitcher Max Lanier with a resounding wallop, making it Klein's 18th hitting game in a row.

The New York Giants beat the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 1, behind Harry Feldman for a clean sweep of the series.

Cincinnati's Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 11 to 8, in a forenoon game, although the Phils drove Johnny Vander Meer to cover with a four-run attack in the first inning.

Tribe Wins 5-2

In the American league, Cleveland beat the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 2 for winners' first win of the year over the near-tailenders. Johnny Salveson hurled the victory, which moved the Indians back into a first place tie with the Washington Senators, who were idle.

The New York Yankees—down in third place by a half game—broke a five-game losing streak behind Hank Borowy, beating the Detroit Tigers, 2 to 1. Borowy went the route, but the Yankees were out-hit 8 to 6 and won the game on a break—when Dick Wakefield, the Tigers' $50,000 prospect, dropped Roy Weatherly's outfield fly to lead to the winning run.

Russ Christopher of the Philadelphia Athletics, beat the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 2. It was his third win in a row.

Men Home On Leave Asked To Parade

All Service Men Of Current War Urged To Turn Out For Exercises Sunday

All service men of the current war, who are home on leave, are asked by General Chairman C. Ed. Brown, of the Memorial Day committee, to turn out for the exercises which will take place here Sunday afternoon and evening.

A special place has been reserved for them at the head of the parade by Parade Chairman Frank T. Sargent and Chief Marshal Cecil F. Suber.

They are also asked to participate in the memorial church service in the evening, when a soldier of the present war will lay a flower at the altar in memory of a deceased comrade. They have been issued an invitation by the Ladies of the G. A. R. to attend the water services at the North street bridge at 6:30 o'clock, and to march in that parade also.

moguls feel the athletes will rapidly hit the groove. The pilots refused to discuss their rosters or venture prediction.

Moose takes the field as one of the 1942 champions. The Rodenbaugh-piloted club grabbed the first half crown but was defeated by Ellwood City, second half winner. In view of the fact that the Ellwoodians are out of the circuit, the Moose takes its place as the New Castle defending champ.

A check up discloses that the four aggregations have strong "wartime" units. The strength is scattered so as to assure a balanced league.

The league will operate on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Sunday afternoons.

In the event of rain tomorrow the circuit will tee-off Tuesday evening. Sunday's clashes will be listed as postponed frays.

SPANISH WAR VETS WILL BE IN PARADE

Commander H. J. Scott, of Col. Daniel Leasure camp, United Spanish War Veterans, has issued an invitation to all Spanish-American War Veterans in this district, whether members of the local camp or not, to turn out for the Memorial Day exercises on Sunday, May 30. They are asked to meet at the Legion home at 1:30 o'clock.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN NORTH BEAVER

Union Memorial service will be conducted in the North Beaver school auditorium Sunday morning. Westfield church will be in charge of the service. Sunday school will begin at 10 a. m., with church service at 11.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEBALL

Tomorrow is May 30th . . . Memorial Day . . . in years gone by we have paid tribute to the lads who have given their all for the citizens of the United States. . . . The Civil War, Spanish-American War, World War No. 1 and now we pay tribute to the lads you knew as children. . . . Yesterday, today and tomorrow boys who walked our streets not so long ago will be risking and giving their lives so that we might enjoy the comforts of FREEDOM. . . . Let's all pause and give a silent prayer for the men in service and for their loved ones back home.

L. T. Kissinger comes through again with a tribute for those who have sailed the high seas.

THE SAILOR TOMB AT SEA
No one stands at his lonely grave,
No one breaths a sigh.
No one comes to his unknown tomb
As evenin' time draws neigh.

No stone is placed above his grave
To tell of his earthly fame.
No epitaph tells of his mighty deeds,
Or mentions his very name.

No flowers are on his sepulcher
No head is bowed in prayer.
But perhaps some heaven sent angel
Stands a silent sentinal there.

The business houses will be closed all day Monday in celebration of Memorial Day. Years gone by found this holiday the time to take the first summer vacation . . . but there won't be any driving to amount to anything this year . . . at least not here in Pennsylvania and the eastern seaboard. . . . Picnics will be held in the backyard. Neighbors will get together and believe it or not but a delightful time will be had by all. . . . The American people are just built that way.

Don't forget your letters to the men in service . . . and come to town and watch the parade tomorrow, Sunday afternoon. . . . See you all Tuesday. Cheerio.

The said lines, hereinabove described, are the lines as located by a survey of the Water and Power Resources Board and of the City of New Castle.

SECTION 2. The City Solicitor is directed to proceed in accordance with the provisions of Section 3403 of the said Act of Assembly by petition to the Court of Common Pleas setting forth the lines hereby established, praying the Court to appoint viewers to ascertain the damages, costs, and expenses resulting from the establishment of the said lines and to assess the damages, costs, and expenses, or so much thereof as the viewers may deem reasonable, upon the properties benefited.

SECTION 3. It is the intent and purpose of this Ordinance to establish the lines of the said Shenango River within the boundaries of the City of New Castle upon their ancient lines and locations and not to enter upon, appropriate or injure any property or materials or to establish any new lines or make any changes or alterations in the channel or bed of the same stream. When the viewers have been appointed and have heard the testimony of all parties who desire to offer testimony, if it shall happen that any of the ancient lines or locations of the banks, channel, or bed of the said stream have been changed or altered by the survey hereinabove described, or if any property or materials would be entered upon, appropriated, or injured by the establishment of the lines hereinabove described, the City may repeal this Ordinance in accordance with the provisions of Section 3406 of the said Act of Assembly or it may amend the said Ordinance so as to establish the said lines at all such places along the true, ancient lines and boundaries of the said stream, as the same may be disclosed to be.

SECTION 4. Where any person or persons have encroached upon the said stream or erected any obstructions therein within its ancient lines and boundaries, if the said encroachments or obstructions are not dangerous or likely to interfere with the public health, safety or welfare in the judgment of the Council, the Council may permit the persons, who have erected or caused such encroachments or obstructions, to continue to maintain the same with the lines of the said stream, so long as the said obstructions and encroachments do not endanger the health, safety, or welfare of the said City of New Castle, or of its residents; but in all such cases the permission to allow the said obstructions and encroachments to remain shall be a mere license, which may be revoked at any time. In granting such license the Council may impose such reasonable regulations as, in its judgment, are necessary for the health, safety, and welfare of the said City.

SECTION 5. If any person or persons shall have encroached upon the lines of the said stream, or erected any obstructions or permitted any obstructions to be erected within the lines of the said stream, as the same are herein established, and the same shall be, in the judgment of the Council, dangerous to the public health, safety, and welfare, the Council shall cause written notice to be given to the person or persons who shall be required to remove the said encroachment or obstruction within a reasonable time, and if the said person or persons do not remove the said obstruction or encroachment within such reasonable time after notice, the City may cause the same to be removed at the expense of the person or persons responsible therefor.

SECTION 6. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to encroach upon the said stream or within its lines, as herein established, or to construct, erect, or, in the case of abutting property owners, to permit the construction or erection of any obstruction or encroachment within the lines of the said stream and any person who shall be convicted before the Mayor or any alderman of the said City of the violation of this Ordinance shall be required to pay a fine of not more than $300.00, and in default of the payment of the fine and costs, to undergo imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty days. In addition to the fine hereinabove set forth, any person violating this Ordinance shall be required to remove any encroachment or obstruction in the said stream for which he is responsible forthwith and, upon his failure to do so, the same may be removed by the City at his expense.

Pursuant to law, the said ordinance was submitted to the Water and Power Resources Board by the City of New Castle at File No. 9681, for its approval, and application was made for a permit from said Water and Power Resources Board for the establishment of the channel lines along the Shenango River throughout its whole course within New Castle City, Lawrence County.

That on the 12th day of May, 1943, the Water and Power Resources Board approved the said ordinance and issued its permit accordingly, which permit is on file in the office of the City Solicitor of the said City.

Notice is hereby given that after advertisement, as provided by the said Act of Assembly, the said ordinance will be called up in Council on the 28th day of June, 1943, for final passage.

AUTO TIRE BURNS

City firemen were called to the rear of 361 East Washington street at 9 o'clock this morning for a peculiar blaze. Fire Chief James E. Thomas reports. The driver of an auto parked his car in a lot in which a pile of rubbish was burning, and got the car too close to the fire, the front tire of the machine catching fire. The fire had been extinguished by the time firemen arrived at the scene. The tire was ruined, it was stated.

Large Blocks Of Stock Are Sold During Morning Transactions

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 29.—The stock market developed rallying tendencies after an irregular opening today.

For the first time in a week, activity centered mainly in the lower priced shares. The buying which came into the market in mid-session spread through the entire list, although gains were fractional.

Large blocks of Nash Kelvinator, Commonwealth and Southern, Lehigh Valley Coal common and preferred, International Telephone, Willys Overland and Radio Corporation were traded. All showed fractional gains except the Lehigh Valley preferred, which gained better than a point to a new high for the year.

The communication shares were better from the start, although American Telephone did lose all of an opening ½ point gain before recovering. Other firm sections included coppers, farm equipment, motors, rails, steels and rubbers.

Chrysler, which set a new high yesterday in a late flurry of buying, tacked another 1-8 point on today.

Bonds followed the stock market trend.

High grade corporates held about unchanged and some fractional declines were noted in defaulted rail liens. U. S. Treasuries were quiet and steady. Good demand in utilities paced a strong and higher curb market.

EAST BROOK

ANNUAL PROM

The traditional Junior-Senior prom was held at the high school on Thursday evening, May 13. With the members of the junior class as hosts a sumptuous chicken dinner was served to the members of the senior class, the faculty, the school board, and friends, in the auditorium. A patriotic theme was used. The dinner was prepared by the juniors' mothers, with Mrs. David McKnight as chairman, and was served by some of the high school girls. After dinner a short program was presented, the welcome to the seniors being given by Willard Patton, president of the junior class and the response by William Hartzell, senior president.

Mrs. America Robison, senior session room teacher, made a few remarks after which group singing was directed by Miss Marian Thompson, music supervisor, and Shirley Cadman, accompanist. The floor was cleared and dancing to a local orchestra was enjoyed.

Chickens And Ducks Roam Former Zoo

(International News Service)

HERSHEY, Pa.—The Hershey Zoo, which has been closed since December 20, 1942, with a public statement, "to be opened after the war bigger and better than ever," has, according to its director, Ward R. Walker, gone through a complete transformation.

Twenty-eight of the thirty keepers employed by the garden have either entered the armed services or have taken jobs on the production line. Domestic chickens and ducks are now being raised in all empty zoo buildings and enclosures that can be arranged for this purpose.

All the animals have been sold except the hayand grain eaters. The flesh of these animals such as deer, antelope and bison would help out considerably in case of an extreme meat shortage.

The animals and birds that have been sold, loaned or donated to other zoological gardens in the United States have gone principally to those city zoological gardens situated in the more thickly populated areas where greater recreational needs are being extended for war workers.

We have classes. Red-blooded American boys are fighting the blue-bloods have safe commissions in Washington.

OPA Rationing Rules For Men On Furlough

No Service Man To Apply For Ration Book Three; Provisions For Food, Gas

Members of the U. S. or Allied armed forces who are stationed in the United States should not apply for Ration Book No. 3 now, as they will get it later when this new book is put into use according to the Pittsburgh district office of price administration. This restriction, however, does not apply to members of their families; they should mail their application at once, like all other civilians.

Men in armed service who eat nine or more meals away from their posts may now secure applications for rationed foods from their commanding officers before they leave their posts, the announcement adds. These applications are then turned over to the persons named as the providers of their meals, who will in turn submit them to the local boards for food certificates.

Under this arrangement, the food providers have until 15 days after the furlough ends in which to submit the application to the local boards.

Amounts of certificates that may be issued on a nine-meal basis are as follows: Processed foods, 8 points; meats and fats, 8 points; coffee, one-quarter pound; sugar, one-quarter pound.

Gasoline for men on furlough for three days or more may be obtained from local ration boards also. The service man should make application in person.

Give Big Business all the war plants when it is over and we'll have the Fascist rule we fought to escape.

No coal for domestic use is available in Erie.

Meeting In Fall Maps Program-Purpose For "Y" Groups During Year

In her yea report at the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian association recently, Miss Marguerite D. White, general secretary, reported that 75 of the 432 board and committee members met to "set-up" the year's program last September.

The theme was "to win the struggle for freedom". A summary of the findings of the five discussion groups included recommendations on defense projects, on the peace after the war, and more recreation for war workers.

These recommendations from the board and committee leaders were "blue prints" in carrying out the purpose in the year's program.

Miss White stated in her report, "We in the New Castle Y. W. C. A. are making progress toward better understanding between groups by opening more and more avenues of communication. We will not be content until our Christian purpose is fulfilled."

Men Home On Leave Asked To Parade

All Service Men Of Current War Urged To Turn Out For Exercises Sunday

All service men of the current war, who are home on leave, are asked by General Chairman C. Ed. Brown, of the Memorial Day committee, to turn out for the exercises which will take place here Sunday afternoon and evening.

A special place has been reserved for them at the head of the parade by Parade Chairman Frank T. Sargent and Chief Marshal Cecil F. Suber.

They are also asked to participate in the memorial church service in the evening, when a soldier of the present war will lay a flower at the altar in memory of a deceased comrade. They have been issued an invitation by the Ladies of the G. A. R. to attend the water services at the North street bridge at 6:30 o'clock, and to march in that parade also.

moguls feel the athletes will rapidly hit the groove. The pilots refused to discuss their rosters or venture prediction.

Moose takes the field as one of the 1942 champions. The Rodenbaugh-piloted club grabbed the first half crown but was defeated by Ellwood City, second half winner. In view of the fact that the Ellwoodians are out of the circuit, the Moose takes its place as the New Castle defending champ.

A check up discloses that the four aggregations have strong "wartime" units. The strength is scattered so as to assure a balanced league.

The league will operate on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Sunday afternoons.

In the event of rain tomorrow the circuit will tee-off Tuesday evening. Sunday's clashes will be listed as postponed frays.

SPANISH WAR VETS WILL BE IN PARADE

Commander H. J. Scott, of Col. Daniel Leasure camp, United Spanish War Veterans, has issued an invitation to all Spanish-American War Veterans in this district, whether members of the local camp or not, to turn out for the Memorial Day exercises on Sunday, May 30. They are asked to meet at the Legion home at 1:30 o'clock.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN NORTH BEAVER

Union Memorial service will be conducted in the North Beaver school auditorium Sunday morning. Westfield church will be in charge of the service. Sunday school will begin at 10 a. m., with church service at 11.
